DECREES AGAINST STORMS

We annul every demonic assignment to weaponize flooding against the Hill Country of Texas and beyond. We revoke permission and access given through idolatry, bloodshed, covenant-breaking, and corruption. We issue a restraining order against engineered floods, manipulated storms, and high-water catastrophes.

We decree that the atmospheric realms over Texas are subject to the lordship of Jesus Christ. We enforce the dominion mandate in Genesis 1:28 and forbid the unlawful trespass of storms, floods, and weather anomalies in the Hill Country of Texas and beyond.

We decree that every aquifer, river, channel, stream, brook, creek, and waterway is bound by the eternal decree of the Lord: 'This far you may come, but no farther.' We enforce divine boundaries and command the waters to remain within their assigned courses. Overflow is forbidden. Spillage, surge, or breach is legally restrained.

We command the waters to obey the voice of their Creator. The earth shall not rebel. Rivers and streams shall not overrun their banks. Channels shall flow in balance. Creeks and brooks shall not become torrents. Waterways shall yield to the dominion of Christ and the authority of the Ekklesia in the earth.

We deploy the Angel Armies assigned to creation's order to stand guard over every aquifer, river, stream, brook, and water channel of whatsoever kind or nature. We decree the enforcement of the banks, stabilization over the terrain, and the restraint of hostile, demonic forces. We decree that divine Watchers are stationed over the waters.

We prohibit rain systems, flash floods, and storm surges from breaching divine boundaries, overwhelming terrain, or trespassing into the Hill Country or beyond. We command the atmosphere to align with the order of heaven and with righteousness. Waters shall not overflow their assigned channels, and destructive forces shall be restrained by the authority of the name of Jesus and the covenant of Psalm 91 protection.

We decree that the clouds be regulated, rainfall be moderated, and flow rates be divinely managed by the Most High. We decree that no sudden deluge shall strike the land.

We rebuke every demonic assignment to use rivers, creeks, channels, or waterways of any kind or nature as instruments of destruction. We revoke, rescind, and nullify all flood-triggering rituals, blood sacrifices, territorial pacts, and idolatrous defilements tied to waterways of whatsoever kind or nature.

We decree a divine restraining order and prohibit the formation of any storm system or atmospheric disturbance of whatsoever kind or nature over the Hill Country of Texas and beyond.

We decree that when the Ekklesia Painted the Borders, the land was consecrated unto the Lord. We decree that the state of Texas is set apart for the purposes of the Kingdom of God.

We decree that when the Ekklesia Painted the Borders, the blood of the Lamb in the spirit was applied to every lake, river, brook, stream, creek and aquifer of whatsoever kind or nature. We decree that the blood of Jesus is the enforcer of our decrees and His sentence and verdict has been rendered against every force of destruction in the Hill Country of Texas and beyond.

We decree divine protection for every parcel of land bordering rivers, creeks, aquifers, and waterways of whatsoever kind or nature, whether natural or man-made in the Hill Country of Texas and beyond.

We decree that waters shall not invade habitations. Drainage shall not fail. Every dwelling is hedged about by the presence of the Most High.

We decree the deployment of the Angel Armies to patrol the perimeters or every natural and man-made waterway in the state of Texas and we enforce the divine verdict against all trespassers who defy the verdict of heaven.

We decree that the state of Texas is under the blood covenant of Jesus Christ and the floods shall not overtake us. We cancel and revoke every demonic assignment of destruction by water over the Hill Country of Texas and beyond.

We decree that the atmospheric realms over Texas are subject to the lordship of Jesus Christ. We enforce the dominion mandate in Genesis 1:28 and forbid the unlawful trespass of storms, floods, and weather anomalies.

We decree and issue a cease and desist order by the verdict of the cross over all destructive weather systems—including hurricanes, flash floods, cyclonic winds, hailstorms, and drought-breaking deluges—that are being steered toward Texas by human or demonic orchestration.

We decree that every atmospheric manipulation of whatsoever kind or nature is overruled, overthrown and of no force or effect.

We decree the shalom of the Most High over the Hill Country and beyond.

We decree the enforcement of all boundaries for the waters in the Hill Country of Texas and beyond. We enforce the order of the Most High and prohibit overflow and breach of all levees, reservoirs, and waterways of whatsoever kind and nature.

We revoke and nullify all legal rights granted to any force—natural or unnatural—to disrupt or inundate with water any city, town, or county in the State of Texas through flood, storm surge, or any form of disaster, whether environmental, engineered, or demonic in origin.

We decree supernatural preservation over the Hill Country of Texas and beyond. We prohibit displacement, death, or devastation by rising waters. We decree emergency response systems shall not fail but operate under divine wisdom.

We decree divine regulation over the rivers, streams, aquifers, and reservoirs of the Hill Country, including the Pedernales, Llano, Guadalupe, Blanco, Medina, and San Marcos rivers and beyond. We decree preservation to dams, bridges, water treatment plants, and rural infrastructure. No engineered collapse or environmental sabotage shall prosper.

We decree that lawmaking, emergency management, and resource control will not be manipulated by fear, false data, or globalist agendas. Let every hidden agenda behind weather manipulation or flooding evacuations be exposed and judged in the courts of heaven.

We decree that the Hill Country and beyond shall not be known for destruction or weather catastrophes, but for fire—holy fire. We decree that the Hill Country is a stronghold of the Lord, a place of prayer, provision, and preservation.

We decree that rain shall be absorbed, redirected, and moderated without violence. We decree that the aquifers shall not surge beyond capacity, and every drainage path shall function without blockage, sabotage, or collapse.

We decree that Texas Hill Country civil leadership—city councils, emergency response, water authorities—shall act with wisdom, integrity, and prophetic alignment. No false alarms, delayed responses, nor exploitation of disaster zones shall occur. We decree truth in reporting, clarity in data, and grace for righteous preparedness.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
